The training program presented a prime opportunity for all the participants to expand their knowledge in day-to-day administration. The training topics were relevant and the response was tremendous. The resource persons were of high standard and with rich experience. Employees received the necessary training and were better able to perform their job. The training boosted the employee's confidence and made aware of the responsibilities of the job as the non-teaching staff of colleges plays an important role in the smooth functioning of the colleges.

The invitation link to the Online Session was texted via Email and SMS. The participants were instructed to download the necessary Software (Google Meet) and ensure that their smartphones/laptops/desktop are connected to internet during the session. The participation certificates were issued to the trainees.

ORAL STORIES

In the 200s B.C., Aesop's fables were written down, and continue to teach lessons today in many areas of life. Aesop lived in the 500s B.C., but his stories were remembered for hundreds of years without a single shred of paper or other printed material. Isn't that amazing? Oral storytelling was so powerful and people remembered Aesop's tales so well that even 300 years later the stories were revered enough for mass production.

ORAL STORIES

9th century fictional storyteller Scheherazade of One Thousand and One Nights (Arabian Nights).
1800: Jakob and Wilhelm Grimm collected and published stories that had been told orally in Germany
1900: the importance of oral storytelling was recognized by storytellers such as Marie Shedlock, a retired English schoolteacher.

DEAR COLLEAGUES,

It gives us an immense pleasure to invite and welcome you to participate in the One Day Multidisciplinary International e-Conference on “Multidisciplinary Perspectives on Health, Society, Environment & Sustainable Development” organized by the Department of Geography & Research & Internal Quality Assurance Cell of our College and your esteem presence is cordially solicited.

Although the concept of sustainable development has a short history, hundreds of definitions of sustainable development have been proposed, representing multidisciplinary understandings of approaches to sustainable development. Sustainable development is a multidimensional concept, involving no less than seven dimensions. Sustainable development is viewed as the mutually beneficial interaction between the legitimate interests of business and the economy, government and the polity, and civil society and culture. In this International e-Conference, we wish to cover Health, Society, and Environment as three dimensions of Sustainable Development.

To address current and future challenges in addressing health issues in the world, the United Nations has developed 17 Sustainable Development Goals to be achieved by 2030. These goals in their entirety encompass the entire spectrum of development across nations; however Goals 1–6 directly address health disparities, primarily in developing countries. These six goals address key issues in global public health: Poverty, Hunger and Food Security, Health, Education, Gender Equality, Women Empowerment, Water and Sanitation. Public health officials can use these goals to set their own agenda and plan for smaller scale initiatives for their organizations. These goals hope to lessen the burden of disease and inequality faced by developing countries and lead to a healthier future. The links between the various sustainable development goals and public health are numerous and well established.

Living below the poverty line is attributed to poorer health outcomes and can be even worse for persons living in developing countries where extreme poverty is more common. A child born into poverty is twice as likely to die before the age of five compared to a child from a wealthier family. The detrimental effects of hunger and malnutrition that can arise from systemic challenges with food security are enormous. The World Health Organization estimates that 12.9 per cent of the population in developing countries is undernourished.

Health challenges in the developing world are enormous, with "only half of the women in developing nations receiving the recommended amount of health care they need. Educational equity has yet to be reached in the world. Public health efforts are impeded by this, as a lack of education can lead to poorer health outcomes.

In the studies done by the World Bank on populations in developing countries, it was found that when women had more control over household resources, the children benefit through better access to food, healthcare, and education. Basic sanitation resources and access to clean sources of water are a basic human right. However, 1.8 billion people globally use a source of drinking water that is contaminated, and 2.4 billion people lack access to basic sanitation facilities like toilets or pit latrines. A lack of these resources is what causes approximately 1000 children a day to die from diarrhoeal diseases that could have been prevented from better water and sanitation infrastructure.

Environment is a multidisciplinary academic field that systematically studies human interaction with the environment. Environmental studies connect principles from the physical sciences, commerce/economics, the humanities, and social sciences to address complex contemporary environmental issues. It is a broad field of study that includes the natural environment, the built environment, and the relationship between them. The field encompasses study in basic principles of ecology and environmental science, as well as associated subjects such as ethics, geography, anthropology, policy, politics, urban planning, law, economics, philosophy, sociology and social justice, planning, pollution control and natural resource management. Students in Environmental Studies gain the intellectual and methodological tools to understand and address the crucial environmental issues of our time and the impact of individuals, society, and the planet.

ABOUT COLLEGE:

“Education is the most powerful weapon which you can use to change the world.” Goa prides itself on being a state of the literates and the educated. And yet, Canacona taluka was deprived of the benefits of Higher Education. Yes, Canacona a remotely located rural place with population belonging to mostly marginalized people belonging to ST/OBC/Economically Backward and a tribal population burdened by economic challenges and social deprivation. Higher Education was a 'distant' dream to be pursued by elite and a fervent few in neighboring talukas and neighboring states.

“Education, then, beyond all other devices of human origin, is the great equalizer of the conditions of man.” This belief of Horace Mann was shared by those who could Grow and Glow because of Higher Education. The educated Sons of Soil of Canacona were scattered in Goa, India and even abroad. 'Though lands part bodies, hearts keep company.' These people were united by their love for their place of origin. The passion of a select few of these learners led to the establishment of Dnyan Prabodhini Mandal Trust with the intention “Tamso ma jyotirgamaya” to lead society from the darkness of ignorance towards enlightenment. In 1993, the dream became a reality in the form of Shree Mallikarjun College of Arts & Commerce, Canacona. College campus is spread over an area of 15000 square meters on the banks of River Talpona on the lap of wooded Western Ghats.

College is permanently affiliated to Goa University since 2004 and in 2011, University Grants Commission, New Delhi recognized College under 2 (f) and 12 (B). College has immensely benefited from RUSA Grants, under Infrastructure Grants to Colleges. We are proud to state that our College is accredited by NAAC with 'B' Grade (CGPA 2.81 on 4 Point Scale).

As per India Today Ranking 2019, College has received 115th Rank in Humanities and Social Sciences (6th among Colleges in Goa) and 144th in Accounting & Commerce (7th among Colleges in Goa) in India. According to EW Ranking-2019, College is ranked 37th all over India and 6th among Colleges in Goa.

The College has completed 27 years with a sense of fulfillment and with a determination to achieve more in the years to come. College offers three degree programmes leading to Bachelor of Arts (B.A.), Bachelor of Commerce (B. Com.) and Bachelor of Science (B. Sc.) apart from Certificate Courses offered by the College. The hallmark of the College is its first generation learners especially belonging to the tribal and other backward communities and more number of Girls than Boys. In the last two and a half decade, College has created a special niche for itself in the fields of Academic, Sports and Culture. College is proud of its qualified staff.

In a rural and backward taluka of Canacona, with its first generation learner's College is promoting student centric education by using modern teaching-learning tools and techniques. To prepare students for future, and make them responsible and sensible citizens, innovative workshops, trainings and courses are conducted on regular basis. College is proud of its Ex-students (Alumni) who are well placed in both private and public sectors.

LOCATION OF COLLEGE:

Dnyan Prabodhini Mandal's Shree Mallikarjun & Shri. Chetan Manju Desai College, Canacona-Goa is located in South Goa District. It is about 40 kms from Margao and Karwar (Karnataka). The nearest Airport is Dabolim (58 kms).

PhD in Business Economics, MS in Quantitative Analysis in the Social Sciences, and MS in Business Economics at KU Leuven, Belgium.

Dr. Ria Aerts is a specialist in Entrepreneurship and Small & Medium-sized Enterprises with special emphasis on innovation and digitalization, globalization, education, women entrepreneurship, social entrepreneurship, family businesses, and policy development. She has experience working with companies, organizations, and governments in diverse industries internationally. She has been involved in the world of Entrepreneurship as a consultant, advisor, mentor, business owner as well as an award-winning academic researcher and teacher. The ability to connect three different worlds: academic, business, and government in Entrepreneurship and SMEs makes her a real distinguished talent as a connector, catalyst, and accelerator.

Dr. Ria Aerts has a broad research knowledge and experience. She has used mixed methods research techniques on both small and large datasets. She is trained in both quantitative and qualitative research.

Dr. Ria Aerts has experience working in the field of policy development as a researcher and consultant for supranational organizations like the Inter-American Development Bank, the European Union, and the OECD as well as for non-profit organizations and government organizations supporting developing countries.

Currently she is the director of International Entrepreneurship, Sustainability and Empowerment at Global Opportunities Commercialisation. In this role she supports and develops programs for diverse stakeholders (youth, women, companies, education institutes, government organizations and NGO's). She is the founder of the Youth Global Empowerment program focussing on giving young people the guidance and tools to develop their passions in meaningful projects and career paths.

She is a founding partner of the social enterprise Migrant Women in Business (www.mwib.com.au). MWiB established an innovative program for helping migrant women entrepreneurs to start a business and to upscale their current business. This program is based on dr. Ria Aerts' more than two decades of academic research, her experience of building educational programs for entrepreneurs and business owners, and her experience as a business owner.

She is the co-organizer of the Onehealthtech hub in Australia. She is bringing companies, academics and government representatives together on the topic of health and technology (www.onehealthtech.com).

Dr. Ria Aerts is an author on the topic of entrepreneurship and education. She is a reviewer for academic high-level journals. She is the mentor for young people on career and entrepreneurship for several organizations. She is multicultural and multi-language savvy having lived and worked in several countries across 4 continents. She belongs to extensive networks of entrepreneurs, academics, and consultants in Europe, Latin America, the USA, Africa, and Australia.

Dr. Devendra Pradhan

Expert :- Radar Meteorologist/ Hydrologist/ Weather Forecaster

Date of Birth : 20/03/1960

Synopsis

- About 30 years of experience in India Meteorological Department (IMD) at different positions with diversified responsibilities starting from Weather Forecast for public, aviation industry and Hydrologist for Quantitative Precipitation estimates, Instrument procurement, Installation and maintenance of the network till the execution of bigger projects including Procurement of Doppler Weather Radars and establishment of a large network of such radars for Flash Flood warning, rainfall measurement and for Hydrological purposes.
- Projects have been successfully executed for Himalayan states designed for hydrology and prediction of heavy rainfall events in the next few hours using Lightning Detection Network, DWR and Automatic Rain gauges.

Research Experience

Involved in the R & D projects in IMD in Doppler Weather Radars, satellite Meteorology, Aviation meteorological Instruments, Rainfall prediction using Radar images, NWP models and Rain Gauge data data.

Professional Experience:-

- Worked as Hydrologist for issue of QPE forecast for River Sub Basins in West Bengal and Jharkhand,
- Meteorologist for issue of weather forecast analysing charts and NWP models.

- Expert in Doppler Weather Radar Meteorology and utilization of radar data in Aviation, Numerical Modelling and Hydrology.

Projects:-

- Flood forecasting using DWR and Rain Gauges data over Kolkata city with IIT Kharagpur and development of a model for Flood Forecast and drainage management over the city during 2015 till date.
- Rainfall estimation over different sub catchment areas and sub basin areas of Damodar and Kansavati Rivers under the project with Damodar Valley Corporation(DVC) project in West Bengal and Jhar Khand during 2004-2015 at Kolkata using DWR and rain gauges.

Educational Qualifications

- M.Sc. Physics (Electronics) : Vikram University, M.P. (1980) First Division
- Post Graduate Diploma in Computer Science and System Analysis (1986)
- Ph.D (Physics) : Structural Analysis of Severe Weather Phenomena and Development of Technique for their prediction in Gangetic West Bengal using Doppler Weather Radar Kolkata". (2013, Jadavpur University, Kolkata , West Bengal)

Job Profile:-

- Joined India Meteorological Department in 1990 as Meteorologist at Mumbai.
- Senior Meteorologist in 1997 at New Delhi
- Director in 2004 at Kolkata
- Deputy Director General in 2012 at Kolkata
- Additional Director General in 2016 at New Delhi

Trainings:-

- One year training in India meteorological Department for Weather Forecasting and Instrument (1990).
- Training for the maintenance of X-Band radars at Enterprise Electronics Corporation, USA (1995).
- Training for the maintenance of of S-Band Doppler Weather Radar at Gematronik (SELEX), Germany (2003-2004).

Fields of Specialization:-

- Doppler Weather Radars (X, C & S Band)
- Meteorological Instruments at surface observatories and Aviation
- Upper Air Sounding data (Radio Sonde and Pilot Balloon)
- Deployment of network comprising of Automatic Weather Station and Automatic rain Gauges for measurement of Rainfall and other met parameters.

Roles and Responsibilities

- Planning for the enhancement of the observational network of IMD.
- Preparing the rainfall maps for districts of India (State wise and country as a whole), River Sub basin rainfall maps, Region wise rainfall maps, Rainfall statistics, QPE for River Sub basin and sub divisions of India.
- Procurement and installation strategy for the deployment of the meteorological instruments.
- Planning for Maintenance and data collection from the observational network.
- Data archive and supply to the users for NWP and forecasting.
- Organization of workshops, training and seminars on various fields of meteorology.

Working Experience:-

- Procurement and Installation of 10 no X Band radars supplied by M/S EEC, USA in 1995-1996 and maintenance done for more than 10 yrs without Annual Maintenance Contract with M/S EEC.
- Operation and Maintenance of S Band Doppler Weather Radar supplied by M/S Gematronik, Germany, at Kolkata (India) during year 2004- 2015 without Annual Maintenance Contract with OEM.
- Appointed as Project Director in IMD for various projects for procurement and installation of Doppler Weather Radars, LIDARS, Wind Profilers, Radio Sonde., Pilot Balloons, Automatic Weather Stations, Automatic Rain Gauges, Automatic Snow Gauges, Disdrometers and Microwave Radiometers.
- Served as Head Instrument Division of IMD from 2015 till March 2020 for procurement and planning of DWRs, Automatic Weather Stations, RS/RW instruments.

- Planning and procurement of 10 X Band Doppler Weather Radars (Solid State Power Amplifier based systems) for NW Himalayan region. (2018 till date).
- Planning completed for 11 No of C band DWRs for plains of India (8 No Klystron Based and 3 No SSPA based systems). Procurement is under process.
- Chairman of the RFP committee for 8 No of X Band DWRs for NE Himalayan region. Planning done and procurement under process.
- Completed the procurement of 400 No of Automatic Weather Stations (AWS) and 200 Agro Based AWS.
