Concept Note

Though only a century old, the cinema has captured the essence of human civilizations across time & space. As a meeting point between science, technology, visual arts, music, drama & commerce, it is in a sense, an epitome of human civilization itself. Simultaneously operating at two levels of creation--the process of film making & its final product the film--cinema illuminates the dialectics between past & present, fact & fiction, reality & imagination. Indian cinema too displays the above characteristic features in the specific Indian context, e.g. taking gender as a focal point, we can illustrate the changing realities & shifting perspectives in India. When Dadasaheb Phalke made the first Indian film 'Raja Harishchandra' in 1913, the role of the heroine Taramali was played by a man because no woman was ready to face camera as it was supposed to be vulgar & inappropriate to the modesty of a woman. Since then there has been such a metamorphosis in the public attitude towards cinema that today there is hardly any aspect of cinema which is not transformed the Midas touch of the women. The present Conference aims at exploring this wonderful relationship between cinema & women --women as audience, as characters, as actors, as singers, as dancers, as writers, as critics & as film makers. So we invite research papers dealing with women & cinema from various angles as listed below. The given list of themes is only indicative & the participants are free to choose any other relevant topic.

To
The Managing Director
Goa Tourism Development Corporation
Government of Goa

Dear Sir,

Goa: the land of Sun, Sand, and Cultural diversity has always attracted the Indian Cinema. A good number of Indian and foreign films are shot in this tiny land due to its diversified physical and cultural landscape. Similarly, Indian Cinema has played a pivotal role in promoting the places and culture of Goa.

Both Tourism and IFFI have attracted the attention of the world to Goa. And Goan Films have won accolades all over. It is, therefore, imperative that we give Konkani Films the impetus it requires to be taken to a new dimension. This is Conference will provide an opportunity to both Indian and foreign delegates to explore the cultural and ecological treasures of Goa and carry the message back to their places.

Indian cinema displays the above characteristic features in the specific Indian context. e.g. taking gender as a focal point, we can illustrate the changing realities & shifting perspectives in India.

Looking at the immense impact of Indian and Konkani Cinema on the Society in general and Women and Youth in particular, I am pleased to inform you that the DEPARTMENTS OF KONKANI AND HINDI of our College in association with SEWA a registered NGO based in Kalyan- Mumbai is organizing an Inter-disciplinary International Conference on the focal theme "INDIAN CINEMA AND WOMEN" on 3rd & 4th February 2016. About 15 foreign delegates from Canada, France, Denmark, Poland, Portugal, Korea, Japan, and Austria are expected to participate in the Conference along with 100 delegates from different parts India.

Civic club lecture by Mrs. Savita Tawadkar ( SOCIOLOGY)

Mrs Savita Tawadkar presenting on 'Etiquettes in everyday life'

Students of T. B. Cunha Civic Club were addressed by Mrs. Savita Tawadkar on the theme entitled "Etiquettes in everyday life" on 18.02.19. The lecture was organised by department of sociology under T.B.Cunha Civic Club. Mrs. Tawadkar, headmistress of Balaram Residential high school, Amone was welcomed with florals. Followed by this, Dr. Haldanka, HOD of Sociology introduced the guest Mrs. Savita Tawadkar to the students. Mrs Tawadkar focussed on the need to imbibe basic etiquettes in our lives while reciprocating with others.

Initially, Mrs Tawadkar explained the meaning of etiquettes. Etiquettes according to her refers to the polite behaviour and adherence to the generally laid down codes of conduct in social life. Her talk then focussed on the life of civilian. She mentioned, 'if we follow the basic etiquettes in our life than each civilian will be an equivalent to the soldier'. If we execute our duties in an appropriate manner then probably we may not have to make rules; things would automatically go in right direction that would enhance peace in society. But unfortunately this is not happening.

She further argued that many a times the youth fail to understand the immediate concerns of their society. We as responsible citizens should think to conserving the resources around us. She indicated the same by giving an example of saving energy. If you are the last person to leave the classroom one can put off all the lights and fans and help ones institute or the society by saving on energy. Similarly, we can help ourselves to maintain our habitats tidy by avoiding to throw wrappers, spitting that can distract the life of others and spread many diseases. The use of toilets should be made mandatory to make our environment clean and healthy and prevent epidemics. Mrs Tawadkar appealed before the students to emerge as best civilians of this country by conforming to the basic etiquettes whereby we develop ourselves positively and in turn care and concern for humanity.

Ms. Vithai Zaraunkar Asst. Prof. in Sociology thanked the gathering; Dr. Haldankar supported the occasion and guided students.

Lecture on Gender Equity

Department of Sociology organised a talk on 'Gender Equity' by Advocate Ms. Deepali Agrasani on 05.04.19. Dr. Arvind N. Haldankar, HOD sociology welcomed and introduced the Guest speaker. Ms Agrasani focused on types of inequalities existing in our society at different places in different forms. The three types of gender inequalities are national gender inequality, household inequality, and property inequality. The speaker explained the above forms of inequalities with lucid examples. One of the examples of household gender inequality was her maid being left by her husband only because she was unable to give birth to baby boy. This example portrays the kind of a declining value and blame, our society attaches to women. Presently, the Indian society demonstrates a mixed bag of attitudes towards women. While some cultures are very liberal there are others where the discriminatory practices are on a rise, she added. The people of Goa are fortunate enough to avail of egalitarian laws such as the Uniform Civil Code. The law is upheld hitherto even when Portuguese regime has come to an end a long time ago.

Secondly, the speaker explained the importance of Domestic Violence Act 2005 ensuring protection for women in the household domain. She also spoke on the trajectory of law and the procedural hindrances confronted by women especially the illiterate ones. Ms Agrasani stressed the need to have efficient legal systems in place to facilitative justice in a speedy manner. A total of 35 students attended the programme. The students interacted with the speaker towards the end receiving convincing replies from the legal expert. Ms. Vithai Zaraunker, Asst. Prof. Sociology proposed the vote of thanks.

A Visit to Sateri Self Help Group

Visit to Shree Santeri Self Help Group Gaval Khola

As a part of the curriculum a field visit was undertaken to Shree Santeri Self Help Group Gaval Khola self-help group of Gaval Khola, Cabo De Rama on 12.10.2018. Assistant Professor Mrs. Vithai Zaraunker accompanied the students. Shree Sateri SHG is one of the oldest groups in the village Khola registered under the SHGs around eight years ago. This group consists of 17 members formed to help each other through their little collection and hard work inputs.

Functioning

It is learnt that the group conducts meetings once in a week and collects a sum of rupees fifty from every member a month. One of the members takes the responsibility of depositing the money in the bank. Apart from this, the members participate collectively in agricultural tubers. These women are also active in the cultural domain. Their fugdi, kalsi and divli dances in the taluka and state competitions have brought them laurels in the cultural festivals like Shigmo.

The pooled money is used for purposes such as education of children, marriages, festivals such as Ganesh chaturthi, birthdays or in times when there is a dire need. They only give the loans to their group member's on interest @ Rs.1 on Rs. 100. Some landless village men borrow land on rent. The rent on land cost is generally around rupees. 400, and is at times also determined as per the use of land. Thus, one may ascertain the fact that the Self Help Groups help the women in mobilising the resources and cultivating a spirit of collective participation.

Medical camp for women to be organised on 07.09.2018 in Gaondongrem. Medical experts from the field of gynaecology, general medicine, nutrition, etc. will be appointed for the task. ## Workshop on 'Gender Awareness'

Speaker Ms Prachi Prabhu along with Principal Dr. M. S. Kamat, Vice Principal Dr. F. M. Nadaf and Dr. Arvind N. Haldankar

The Department of Sociology Shree Mallikarjun College of Arts Commerce and Science in association with "Sangath" organized a workshop on "Gender Awareness" by Prachi Prabhu Research Scholar at the Advanced Centre of Women's Studies, Tata Institute of Social Sciences, Mumbai on 18th January 2019. Five faculty members and 112 students attended the workshop.

Objectives of the workshop:

1. The training aimed to increase gender awareness among participants
2. To help challenge discriminatory practices and inculcate inclusive environment

Activity/Process: This workshop aimed at making students aware of gender as social construction. It aimed to raise awareness among participants about issues related to gender.

Themes covered:

1. Gender and Sex: Understanding the difference between gender and sex. To unlearn the different social constructs of gender.
2. Gender based discrimination and Violence: this discussion included challenging various forms of discrimination such as stereotypes, emotional and physical abuse and understanding the manifestations of these in everyday lives
3. Gender equality: This discussion was centered on the ideas of equality and need for it. It also discussed the various ways of how inclusion and equality can be practiced in our lives. This session raised awareness among students about gender discrimination and the need for challenging the same.

Firstly, Dr Arvind Haldankar Head Department of Sociology introduced the theme of the workshop. Principal Dr. Manoj Kamat welcomed and introduced the speaker Smt. Prachi Prabhu and emphasized the need to debate and discuss issues concerning gender in the Indian society. Soon after the welcome, the speaker dealt with issues such as Gender trouble and gender inequality arising out of it. She explained as to how society looks at men and women differently and in turn also attribute roles in distinct manner. Furthermore, the students learnt about the basic distinction between sex and gender. While sex refers to biologically properties, gender is to be understood as a socially constructed variable. The distinction between the two was deliberated with a multiple illustrations. Ms Prabhu posed some fundamental questions before the students of how people negotiate with our lives in shaping our experiences in determining the idea of gender. She spoke about the process of socialization handled by agencies such as family, school, community, office, media, religion and division of labour.

Secondly, the speaker discussed male domination and the concomitant gender discriminatory practices resulting in violence against women. It is evident from this fact that women face more problems than men in the Indian society. The LGBT (lesbian, gay, bisexual, transgender) community is yet another social component which is more vulnerable to problems. Violence against women in any form is an offence and gender discrimination is not to be viewed as women issue but a human issue, remarked Ms Prachi. Ms. Drisila Fernandes from Third Year Bachelor of Arts class thanked the speaker on behalf of College and the Sociology Department.
