1) Of all things desired by man, peace of mind is the most important. Neither health nor wealth, neither fame nor can status be a substitute for this most valuable asset. Many people are apparently in good health and yet they feel miserable because their mind is not at peace. A man may accumulate an immense fortune but, in the absence of mental peace, he cannot enjoy it. Yoga exercises solve this problem.

2) Living is an art. It is the most complicated art as it based upon the scientific application of the good principles of living, which govern the behavior and attitude of a human being. Life has various aims for various people; to some it is just empty dream, to others it is zeal, pleasure and duty. Some live for enjoyment. They would like to eat, drink and be merry without caring for tomorrow, which they think may not come. For them, life is not a serious Journey through years. In actual life, however, there are very few people who can themselves enjoy so easily, for life is not just a bed of roses, it has many thorns around.

3) Practice various speed passages.
